Short title

16. This Act is called the Industrial Development Amendment Act, 2001.

MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT AMENDMENT BILL, 2001

The need has arisen to adjust the objects of the Industrial Development Corporation of South Africa Limited (IDC) to enable the Corporation to assist in the implementation of its shareholders' economic and industrial policies, and to extend its activities beyond the borders of the Republic of South Africa for the benefit of the Southern African region, specifically, and the rest of Africa, generally.

The Bill endeavours to focus and extend the scope of the activities of the IDC in line with the trade and industrial policy of the Government with special reference to the promotion of entrepreneurial activities by the IDC in the area of small and medium enterprises. It is proposed that the IDC be explicitly empowered to promote the economic empowerment of historically disadvantaged communities and persons.

The Bill seeks to empower the managing director to delegate his or her powers to staff committees of the Corporation and to repeal obsolete provisions. The deletion of discriminatory or gender insensitive references is also proposed. The Bill lastly seeks to change the short title of the Industrial Development Act, 1940 (Act No. 22 of 1940), to the "Industrial Development Corporation Act, 1940".

Financial implications for State

None.

Consultation

The IDC was consulted on the Bill.

Parliamentary procedure

The State Law Advisers and the Department of Trade and Industry are of the opinion that the Bill should be dealt with in accordance with the procedure set out in section 75 of the Constitution since it contains no provision to which the procedure set out in section 74 or 76 applies.
