Responsibility of Government to promote rental housing

2. (1) Government must—

 - (i) improve conditions in the housing rental market;
 - (ii) encourage investment in inner city and other areas that are in need of revitalisation and resuscitation; and
 - (iii) correct distorted patterns of residential settlement by initiating, promoting and facilitating new development in or the redevelopment of affected areas; 25

- (a) optimise the use of existing urban municipal and transport infrastructure;
 - (b) redress and inhibit urban fragmentation or sprawl;
 - (c) promote higher residential densities in existing urban areas as well as in areas of new or consolidated urban growth; and

(4) Provincial and local governments must pursue the objects of subsection (1) within the national policy framework on rental housing referred to in subsection (3), and within the context of broader national housing policy in a balanced and equitable manner and must accord rental housing particular attention in the execution of functions, the exercise of powers and the performance of duties and responsibilities in relation to housing development. 40

CHAPTER 3

RELATIONS BETWEEN TENANTS AND LANDLORDS

General provisions

4. (1) In advertising a dwelling for purposes of leasing it, or in negotiating a lease in respect of a dwelling with a prospective tenant, or during the term of a lease, a landlord may not unfairly discriminate against such prospective tenant or tenants, or the members of such tenant's household or the genuine visitors of such tenant, on one or more grounds, including race, gender, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, ethnic or social origin, colour, age, disability, religion, conscience, belief, culture, language and birth. 10 15

(2) A tenant has the right, during the lease period, to privacy, and the landlord may only exercise his or her right of inspection in a reasonable manner after reasonable notice to the tenant.

Provisions pertaining to leases

5. (1) A lease between a tenant and a landlord, subject to subsection (2) need not be in writing. 30

(2) A landlord must, if requested thereto by a tenant, reduce the lease to writing.

(3) A lease will be deemed to include terms, enforceable in a competent court, to the effect that—

(a) the landlord must furnish the tenant with a written receipt for any payment made for rental, arrears or as a deposit, or for any payment otherwise received by the landlord from the tenant; 35

(b) such receipt must be dated and clearly indicate the address of a dwelling in respect of which payment is made, and whether payment has been made for rental, arrears, deposit or otherwise, and specify the period for which payment is made; 40

(c) the landlord may require a tenant, before moving into the dwelling, to pay a deposit which, at the time, may not exceed an amount equivalent to an amount specified in the agreement or otherwise agreed to between the parties;

(d) the deposit contemplated in paragraph (c) must be invested by the landlord in an interest-bearing account with a financial institution and the landlord must pay the tenant interest at the rate applicable to such account which may not be less than the rate applicable to a savings account with a financial institution; 45

(e) the tenant and the landlord must jointly, before moving into the dwelling, inspect the dwelling to ascertain the existence or not of any defects or damage therein with a view to determining the landlord's responsibility for rectifying 50

- any defects or damage or with a view to registering such defects or damage, as provided for in paragraph (f);
- (f) at least one week before the expiration of the lease the landlord must, in the presence of the tenant, inspect the dwelling with a view to ascertaining if there is any damage caused to the dwelling during the tenant's occupation thereof; 5

 - (h) the relevant receipts which indicate the costs which the landlord incurred, as contemplated in paragraph (g), must be available to the tenant for inspection as proof of such costs incurred by the landlord;
 - (i) should no amounts be due and owing to the landlord in terms of the lease, the deposit, together with the accrued interest in respect thereof, must be refunded by the landlord to the tenant, without any deduction or set-off, within seven days of expiration of the lease; 15
 - (j) failure by the landlord to inspect the dwelling in the presence of the tenant as contemplated in paragraphs (e) or (f) is deemed to be an acknowledgement by the landlord that the dwelling is in a good and proper state of repair, and the landlord will have no further claim against the tenant who must then be refunded, in terms of this subsection, the full deposit plus interest by the landlord; 20
 - (k) should the tenant fail to respond to the landlord's request for an inspection as contemplated in paragraph (f), the landlord must, on expiration of the lease, inspect the dwelling within seven days from such expiration in order to assess any damages or loss which occurred during the tenancy; 25

 - (o) should the tenant vacate the dwelling before expiration of the lease, without notice to the landlord, the lease is deemed to have expired on the date that the landlord established that the tenant had vacated the dwelling but in such event the landlord retains all his or her rights arising from the tenant's breach of the lease. 40
- (4) The standard provisions referred to in subsection (3) may not be waived by the tenant or the landlord. 45
- (5) If on the expiration of the lease the tenant remains in the dwelling with the express or tacit consent of the landlord, the parties are deemed, in the absence of a further written lease, to have entered into a periodic lease, on the same terms and conditions as the expired lease, except that at least one month's written notice must be given of the intention by either party to terminate the lease. 50

(3) Any appointment in terms of subsection (1) or (2) must be for a period not exceeding three years but a person whose term of office as a member has expired may be reappointed by the MEC for an additional period not exceeding three years. 45

(4) (a) Any vacancy in the office of a member of the Tribunal must be filled by the MEC appointing another member under subsection (1) or (2).

(b) Any member so appointed holds office for the unexpired portion of the predecessor's term of office. 50

(5) The MEC may at any time for reasons which are just and fair remove from office any member appointed under subsection (1) or (2) and appoint another person to the vacancy resulting therefrom in accordance with subsection (4).

(6) If the chairperson is absent or unable to perform functions of the chairperson in a meeting of the Tribunal, the members present must from among their number and subject to the approval of the MEC designate any other member to act as chairperson during such absence or incapacity. 5

(7) A member or an alternate member of the Tribunal other than a person who is in the full-time employment of the State or an organ of state, must be appointed on the conditions of service determined by the MEC with the approval of the Member of the Executive Council responsible for provincial expenditure in the relevant province. 10

(7) Where consensus cannot be reached by the Tribunal, the decision of a majority of the members of the Tribunal must be the decision of the Tribunal. 30

(8) In the event of an equality of votes on any matter, the person presiding at the meeting of the Tribunal will have a casting vote in addition to that person’s deliberative vote.

(9) A member or any alternate member of the Tribunal must not attend or take part in the discussions of or decision-making on any matter before the Tribunal in which he or she or his or her spouse, or his or her relative within the second degree of affinity, or his or her partner or his or her employer, other than the State, or the partner or the employer of his or her spouse, has any direct or indirect pecuniary interest. 35

(10) Minutes of the proceedings of the Tribunal must be kept and retained at the offices of the Tribunal. 40

(11) No decision taken by the Tribunal will be invalid merely by reason of a vacancy in the Tribunal or of the fact that any person not entitled to sit as a member of the Tribunal, sat as such a member at the time when the decision was taken, if the decision was taken by the majority of the members of the Tribunal present at the time and who were entitled to sit as members of the Tribunal. 45

(d) where the Tribunal is of the view that the dispute is of such a nature that it cannot be resolved through mediation or where a mediator contemplated in paragraph (c) has issued a certificate to the effect that the parties are unable to resolve the dispute through mediation, conduct a hearing and, subject to this section, make such a ruling as it may consider just and fair in the circumstances. 40

(3) For purposes of a hearing contemplated in paragraph (d) of subsection (2), the Tribunal may— 45

(a) require any Rental Housing Information Office to submit reports concerning inquiries and complaints received, as well as on any other matters concerning the administration of this Act within the area of jurisdiction of that office;

- (f) call upon and administer an oath to, or accept an affirmation from, any person present at the meeting who has or might have been summonsed in terms of paragraph (a) or (b).
- (4) Where a Tribunal, at the conclusion of a hearing in terms of paragraph (d) of subsection (2) is of the view that an unfair practice exists, it may— 10
 - (a) rule that any person must comply with a provision of the regulations relating to unfair practices;
 - (b) where it would appear that the provisions of any law has been or is being contravened, refer such matter for an investigation to the relevant competent or local authority; 15

 - (i) overcrowding;
 - (ii) unacceptable living conditions;
 - (iii) exploitative rentals; or
 - (iv) lack of maintenance.
- (5) A ruling contemplated in subsection (4) may include a determination regarding the amount of rental payable by a tenant, but such determination must be made in a manner that is just and equitable to both tenant and landlord and takes due cognisance of— 25
 - (a) prevailing economic conditions of supply and demand;
 - (b) the need for a realistic return on investment for investors in rental housing; and
 - (c) incentives, mechanisms, norms and standards and other measures introduced by the Minister in terms of the policy framework on rental housing referred to in section 2(3). 30

 - (a) the landlord may not evict any tenant, subject to paragraph (b);
 - (b) the tenant must continue to pay the rental payable in respect of that dwelling as applicable prior to the complaint or, if there has been an escalation prior to such complaint, the amount payable immediately prior to such escalation; and 45
 - (c) the landlord must effect necessary maintenance, until the Tribunal has made a ruling on the matter or a period of three months has elapsed, whichever is the earlier.
- (8) The Tribunal must keep a register of complaints received and complaints resolved with such details as may be prescribed and quarterly provide the local authority in whose jurisdictions dwellings are situated in respect of which complaints have been received with a list of complaints received and complaints resolved in such format as may be prescribed. 50
- (9) As from the date of the establishment of a Tribunal as contemplated in section 7, any dispute in respect of an unfair practice, must be determined by the Tribunal unless proceedings have already been instituted in any other court. 55
- (10) Nothing herein contained precludes any person from approaching a competent court for urgent relief under circumstances where he or she would have been able to do so were it not for this Act, or to institute proceedings for the normal recovery of arrear rental, or for eviction in the absence of a dispute regarding an unfair practice.

(11) A magistrate’s court may, where proceedings before the court relate to a dispute regarding an unfair practice as contemplated in this Act, at any time refer such matter to the Tribunal. 5

(12) The Tribunal may—

- (a) make a ruling as to costs as it may consider appropriate; and
- (b) where a mediation agreement has been concluded pursuant to section 13(2)(c), make such an agreement a ruling of the Tribunal.

(13) A ruling by the Tribunal is deemed to be an order of a magistrate’s court in terms of the Magistrates’ Court Act, 1944 (Act No. 32 of 1944). 10

MEMORANDUM ON THE OBJECTS OF THE RENTAL HOUSING BILL, 1999

Background

1. Due to the Department of Housing (“the Department”) receiving numerous requests for the abolition of the current Rent Control Act, 1976 (Act No. 80 of 1976), the Department of Housing initiated a study by local and international experts which culminated in the Department drafting the Rental Housing Bill (“the Bill”) and its publication in General Notice 2111 published in Government Gazette No.19260 of 18 September 1998 for public information, discussion and comment. The Department received numerous written and oral responses to the Bill and meetings were held with some of the major role-players during December 1998. A task team was then established to review the Bill, taking into account the written and oral submissions. A completely revised Bill known as the Rental Housing Bill, 1999 was subsequently prepared and submitted to Cabinet for approval.

Aims and objectives

2. (1) The Bill aims to facilitate the delivery of new rental stock and the proper management and maintenance of existing rental stock. The Bill addresses the following chief concerns:

- (a) the perceived high risk among investors of non-payment among tenants of rents and service charges. The Bill introduces stability into the rental housing market and thereby encourages private investment in the sector; and
- (b) in some buildings tenants have reacted to what they perceive as exploitative rentals, lack of building management and maintenance and collapsing services. The Bill empowers tenants to challenge irresponsible landlords to provide rental accommodation of a standard commensurate with rental levels.

(2) In many cases there appears to be uncertainty among tenants and landlords regarding their respective roles, duties and responsibilities. This confusion often leads to conflict and the Bill makes provision for the clarification of such roles through appropriate lease agreements.

Content of Bill

3. The first two chapters deal with introductory provisions and the promotion of rental housing by the State. The important part of Chapter 2 is that the Minister may introduce a rental subsidy housing programme as contemplated in section 3(4)(g) of the Housing Act, 1997 (Act No. 107 of 1997) to stimulate the supply of rental housing property for low income persons.

4. Chapter 3 deals with relations between landlords and tenants and among others clarifies the roles, duties and responsibilities through appropriate lease agreements.

5. Chapter 4 introduces provincial Rental Housing Tribunals whose primary purpose is the facilitation of a process of dispute resolution through which differences may be resolved and fair rental may be negotiated between landlord and tenant. It is only in extreme cases, where landlords and tenants fail to come to any agreement, that the Tribunal may determine a fair rental. Tribunal staff and the funding of, and reporting on the activities of Tribunals are also dealt with in this chapter.

6. Chapter 4 also provides for the establishment of Rental Housing Information Offices by local authorities and for regulations to be prescribed by MEC's.

7. The final Chapter 5 makes it an offence if certain provisions are contravened and provides for penalties in respect of contraventions. In addition the chapter sets out a review procedure as well as repealing and amending certain laws, the most important of which is the repeal of the Rent Control Act, 1976. However, the Bill provides that tenants who enjoy protection under the Rent Control Act will continue to do so for a period of three years from the commencement of the Rental Housing Act.

Consultation

8. Extensive consultation took place with stake-holders and interested persons. In particular all nine provinces were consulted. A Minmec meeting (meeting of Minister and provincial MEC's responsible for housing matters in the provinces) supported the Bill before it was submitted to Cabinet for approval. Consultations also took place with major local authorities, property administrators involved in rental housing stock, property developers, planning departments of universities, social housing associations and more importantly, tenant associations. Comments received have where necessary been incorporated into the Bill.

Parliamentary procedure

9. The Department of Housing and the State Law Advisers are of the opinion that this Bill falls to be dealt with under section 76 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 (Act No. 108 of 1996).
